

Computer-Assisted Learning

97Xxx

- [1] Nuh Aydin, Enhancing undergraduate mathematics curriculum via coding theory and cryptography, PRIMUS 19 (2009), no. 3, 296–309.
- [2] Nigel Boston, A use of computers to teach group theory and introduce students to research, J. Symbolic Comput. 23 (1997), no. 5–6, 453–458.
- [3] John Cannon and Catherine Playoust, Using the Magma computer algebra system in abstract algebra courses, J. Symbolic Comput. 23 (1997), no. 5–6, 459–484.
- [4] Erich Kaltofen, Teaching computational abstract algebra, J. Symbolic Comput. 23 (1997), no. 5–6, 503–515.
- [5] Gary J. Sherman, Trying to do group theory with undergraduates and computers, J. Symbolic Comput. 23 (1997), no. 5–6, 577–587.